Hi there, I'm Eina!

I'm a front-end developer who loves building user-friendly websites and web apps, enjoys writing documentation and loves helping people learn how to code. I also really like drawing with CSS. Most recently, I've been building web apps with React and serverless providers like Firebase and Netlify.

I'm currently interested in learning more about accessibility and delving deeper into CSS/JS animations.

I'm also...

- learning copperplate calligraphy. I've been really enjoying writing out lyrics to songs as practice
- kind of into mechanical keyboards. I'm pretty in love with my Canvas XDA keycaps
- one of those folks who started out making websites on Geocities. It was about CardCaptor Sakura and it definitely had a `<marquee>`

Let's chat!

The screenshot shows a dark-themed website for Cory Hughart. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links: Home (highlighted in green), Web, Games, About, and Resume. The main title "CORY HUGHART" is displayed in large, white, sans-serif capital letters. Below it, the subtitle "THE ODYSSEY OF A FULL-STACK WEB DEVELOPER" is shown in a smaller, white, all-caps font. In the center, there is a circular profile picture of a man with glasses. To the left of the profile picture, text reads: "For over a decade, I have studied and inscribed the sacred runes and performed the arcane rituals that breathe life into the realm of the internet." To the right, another block of text says: "The web can sometimes be indistinguishable from magic, but I have the knowledge and patience required to make just about anything." The background features abstract geometric shapes like triangles and circles.

Aesthetic

- Minimal
- Sections - clear and concise
- Single Page Layout (+ Blogs)
- Responsive (negative space on the sides for desktop view)
- Bold colours, fun
